

Kernow Maternity and Neonatal Voices Partnership

Engagement Officer, Part time 22.5 hours per week.

£13,990 (FTE £23,316) pension scheme, 25 days annual leave pro rata

Are you a good listener and communicator? Are you excited about talking to people in Cornwall and the Isles of Scilly about their experiences of using maternity and neonatal services? Are you passionate about working with diverse communities and making sure their voice is heard? If yes, you could be part of our team.

About Kernow MNVP

Kernow Maternity and Neonatal Voices Partnership (MNVP) exists to ensure that maternity and neonatal care is safe, kind, compassionate and person centered. We engage with, represent and support those using maternity and neonatal services. We work alongside maternity and neonatal services to bring service user voice into the design, development and oversight of services. Keeping people at the heart of all we do ensures the care provided truly meets the needs of our whole community.

Kernow MNVP is hosted by a community interest company called Evolving Communities which specialises in delivering high quality local engagement delivery and support.

The role

Kernow MNVP is seeking a passionate and enthusiastic Engagement Officer to join our team to lead our community engagement work, including working with volunteers and helping with social media. You will work on engagement projects out in the community, with voluntary sector organisations and with volunteers to gather feedback, information and understand the needs of families. You will also work closely with the Kernow MNVP team to discuss the feedback and progress on the engagement work and support them to use this intelligence to influence services.

Who we are looking for

- A creative and forward thinking individual
- Experience of planning and delivering engagement activities with diverse communities
- Proactive and motivated individual willing to travel across Cornwall and Isles of Scilly regularly
- Strong communicator and passion for working directly with people and communities
- Someone who enjoys working within a small team while having a strong ability to work independently, building connections with multiple stakeholders

What we can offer you

- A generous annual leave offer
- Excellent pension
- Flexible working
- Investment in career and personal development
- Ability to access and support to attend national and regional training and events
- A passionate, experienced and inclusive team working environment
